The River a poem by Jeffrey

The River. It's flow is permanent. It destroys whatever gets taken by it's flow, but it can calm down and become a peaceful place to relax.

Once a week a volunteer from Write Around Portland comes and holds a workshop with several upper school students. Students are provided with a writing prompt and are then offered an opportunity to share their writing and receive suggestions from other students. This poem was written by Jeffrey during one of these workshops.

FROM PRINCIPAL
MEGAN

Hi Everyone!

Thanks to Serendipity students, families and staff for another great month at Serendipity. We have spring break coming up at the end of the month March 26th-30th. After spring break to help you continue to work on your safe, responsible, and respectful behavior, we will have a Parade of Expectations to remind all student of expected school-wide behavior. After spring break we will also have a Safety Week where we will practice required safety drills.

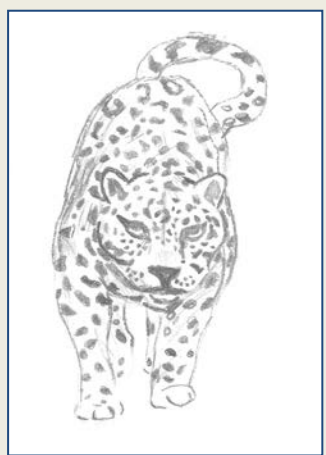

We need to make up February snow days. A new calendar will be sent to families, staff, and transportation that students will have school on April 20th, April 30th, and May 14th. More school means more opportunities to practice your safe, respectful, and responsible behavior.

- Principal Megan

Holes By Nick (Rm. 108)

Nick took a break from his monthly comic to contribute to a classroom project where room 108 made signs to cover multiple holes in the walls of upper school. His sign says "Don't punch holes in walls. That means more work for Scotty." I'm sure Scotty appreciates your effort Nick!
